

December 9, 2008

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ARL Adds More Excitement For 2009 Season With Additional Classes

ARL provides more track time with new classes for 2009 season.

Halifax, N.S. – Atlantic Roadracing League (ARL) is pleased to announce it will be adding three new exciting classes to the 2009 season Sportsman 2, CBR 125, and Thunder. ARL recognizes the number of potential racers who own late model sportbikes and have made a decision to create a race class for these machines. Also, in an effort to introduce young riders to racing ARL has secured the CBR 125 class in association with Honda Canada. The Thunder class will bring a new class designed specifically for twin cylinder motorcycles where all two cylinder machines will qualify.

ARL is making every effort to address the needs of true club racing fans by offering a place for virtually any kind of equipment and tons of track time on a regional race weekend. The addition of these new classes and improved weekend scheduling, ARL is confident to offer even more tracktime per weekend. The average racer competing in just 2 classes can enjoy over 4 hours of available track time from Friday to Sunday. Based on input from its members ARL is excited to add these new classes to the series and feels it will be beneficial to increasing ridership and fans throughout this exciting 2009 season.

Atlantic Roadracing League Inc is the promoter of all Atlantic motorcycle road racing action at Atlantic Motorsport Park. The Atlantic series consists of five rounds of racing that includes classes from Superbike to Vintage and everything in between. In addition to racing activities in 2009 ARL will promote High Performance Riding Schools, track days, along with "race focused" Peak performance schools. For information on these and other activities please go to www.atlanticroadracing.com.